Jenelle Giordano is a 2011 alumni graduate of St. Joseph Regional Catholic School, Salem, NH. She has accomplished a great deal at Pinkerton Academy, while maintaining honors throughout all four years. She is a member of the Technical Honor Society as well as the Academic Honor Society. She credits her work and study habits to St. Joe's of Salem, NH. "The base education and learning experiences I received from St. Joe's have helped me in everything I've done during my high school years, both academically and socially."

Jenelle's interests in the Arts steered her towards filming, theatre, script writing, sound, and media arts at Pinkerton Academy. The opportunities allowed her to join Pinkerton Stage Crew at the Stockbridge Theatre in Derry becoming the Stage Manager for the entire crew. She currently holds a part-time job at the Stockbridge Theatre. In addition to her academics and extra-curricular activities, she found time to give back volunteering to help the girls in need during prom season, working in the Nearly-New Prom Dress Shop at the school - her caring spirit that was nurtured by St. Joe's.

Jenelle's endeavors have led her towards an internship at New Hampshire Public Television, as well as Assistant Producer at Derry TV. Her major interest in filming has led to her writing, producing, and directing movies, commercials, documentaries, and short films. Her documentary "I am Simmie" and another of her short films have been nominated to the New Hampshire High School Film festival on May 23rd in Concord, NH. Jenelle has received a 4-year scholarship to the University of the Arts in Philadelphia, PA, for Film Studies and is looking forward to her next four years of her education. "Thank you St. Joe's for preparing me for my future."
