Inspired by faith and guided by wisdom, our children soar!

December 20, 2018

Dear St. Joseph Regional Catholic School Family,

It wasn't that long ago that we were marching in the Salem Holiday Parade – St. Joe's float won third place in the school category. The Christmas Show was a wonderful kick-off to this joyous season (look for an encore performance by some of our second grade students at Mary Queen of Peace on Christmas Eve). Just yesterday afternoon we celebrated our Advent liturgy with Fr. Phil from St. Thomas Aquinas Parish in Derry. A definite reminder that Christmas is just around the corner. We have many blessings to count this Christmas starting with our wonderful students and their families. Enrollment is up again this year! The students have been enjoying the new playground and there are even more extracurricular programs being offered.

Greeting the students each morning whether they are energy-filled little ones or our Jr. High students, who don't show quite that level of exuberance, is still one of the highlights of my day. In the months ahead there will be much to look forward to, such as our open house in January for prospective families (spread the word), family social events, the annual gala in March and our 60th anniversary.

By now you have received the letter regarding our first ever annual appeal – the Eagle Fund. Please keep in mind that we did not do our usual Cash Raffle this year so families would not be overburdened when the Eagle Fund commenced. I'd ask you to consider donating what you would have put toward the cash raffle to the Eagle Fund so that we can continue to improve and do great things here at St. Joe's.

Wishing you a joyous Christmas and many blessings for the New Year!
